

Adobe® Solutions for eLearning

With Adobe® Connect™, novices and experts alike can easily create and deliver compelling self-paced online courses, conduct highly interactive virtual classes, and efficiently manage training programs.

eLearning with Adobe Connect

Instant access

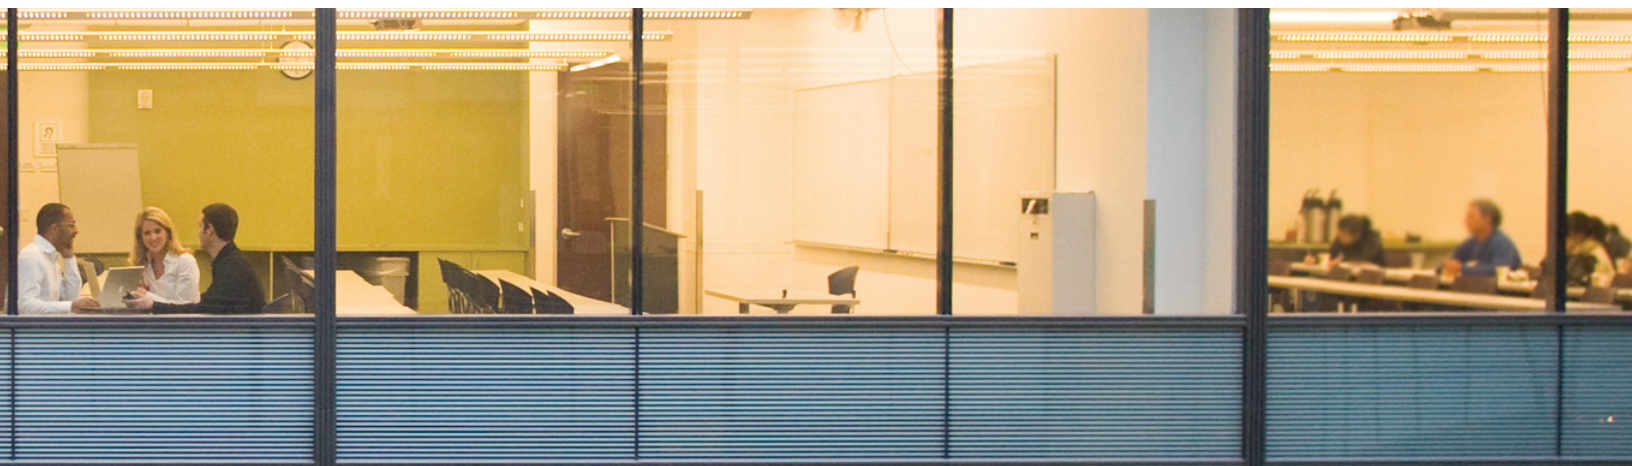

Forget about multiple plug-ins or proprietary software. All that users need to attend your training is Adobe Flash® Player, which is already installed on virtually all Internet-connected computers.

High impact

You can easily incorporate video, audio, and interactivity to create an almost in-person experience. It keeps virtual classrooms fresh and dynamic, so learners stay engaged and retain more knowledge.

Extensible

Adobe Connect integrates with any audio conferencing platform, as well as email and learning management systems, plus the open APIs and SDKs enable further integration.

Adobe Connect Meeting

Conduct real-time, virtual classes and meetings with instructors and learners in different locations, complete with multimedia presentations, software simulations, application sharing, and participant polling. There are no software downloads for learners because they need only the Adobe Flash Player, which is already installed on virtually all Internet-connected computers.
